

SCIS-Pudong Expands Mandarin Program

By Daniel Jubert, Head of School – SCIS Pudong Campuses

Over the summer, an exciting development occurred at SCIS-Pudong. A purposeful, state-of-the-art wing of classrooms was created to support our Mandarin Language program. The five rooms, which are 90 square meters in size, are equipped with the latest learning technologies in a spacious environment allowing for creative instructional designs and multipurpose areas.

A goal set the pervious year was to improve the Mandarin program, as classrooms were spread out across the school where space allowed. Providing the appropriate facility for this to take place was a vital step in the process.

Now, the program boasts some of the nicest rooms in our entire school-- the way it should be!
