

5. Rare animal photos at SCIS

There are few things more exhilarating than seeing animals in their natural habitat as the photojournalist, author, peace activist and recent visitor to Shanghai Community International School, Richard Sobol, might tell you. Students were treated to photographs of some of the rarest animals alive today, from twin elephants in Thailand and to the endangered mountain gorillas of Uganda.